

Financial Services Programme

The financial services industry relies heavily on technology, from communications and infrastructures, to new innovations such as cloud, AI and blockchain. Now more than ever, financial services providers embark on new digital transformation journeys to improve processes, resilience, and services. We connect firms from across the ecosystem to ensure innovation and technology can be fully harnessed and embraced by industry and regulators.

The benefits of our Financial Services programme

Industry Access

techUK members power financial services through the data and technological services they offer to the sector. techUK have a programme of events which allow financial services the opportunity to engage the sector, providing insight on the latest technology trends and their impact on the sector, addressing misconceptions, empowering decision makers and aiding collaboration.

Influence Policy

Financial Services is one of the most highly-regulated sectors of the UK economy. Tech providers are increasingly coming to the attention of FS regulators on topics including operational resilience or the application of AI. techUK helps its members to not only keep on top of policy developments, but the opportunity to engage in and shape policy development.

Inside Track

techUK provides members with opportunities to understand and shape future technology investments in the FS sector. Members have regular access to FS institutions, regulators and other FS stakeholders, as well as other tech firms interested in the sector. Leveraging techUK's footprint in both leading and bleeding edge technologies such as AI, quantum and digital ID, your firm can gain information and actionable insight to help drive impact within your own business.

Impact Performance

techUK market engagement and insight activities ensure that members are well prepared to make informed decisions which lead to successful business outcomes. The Programme's policy work also helps to shape a positive regulatory and legislative environment in the FS sector for technology companies, ensuring their voices are heard in government and their views are considered by senior policy makers.

Return on Investment

techUK members can better navigate the UK FS sector to successfully align their own investment and resources to take advantage of business opportunities. This is complemented by our work to ensure members are able to shape and influence policy development, reducing costs and risks to business. For companies already working in FS or aspiring to do so, the Programme provides members with access to key stakeholders and market insight that is not readily available publicly.
